(<https://smartphonetradein.com>), one of the nation's leading cell phone and smartphone trade-in companies, has processed 7.5 million used cell phones, smartphones, iPads & iPods. The only major cell phone buyback site that offers ease of use for both individuals on single device trade-ins and organizations with bulk device trade-in needs, it boasts smartphone trade-in partnerships with more than 6,000 charitable organizations and thousands of businesses nationwide.

“SmartphoneTradeIn.com is the only major cell phone trade-in company that makes it easy for you to sell one, two, five, or five hundred phones for cash, without the tedious process of providing specific details about each individual device in a bulk order,” notes Marc Leff, co-founder and COO of SmartphoneTradeIn.com, “And while we offer industry leading prices for more than four hundred device models, our satisfaction guarantee provides our customers the security of knowing that, if they aren’t satisfied with the final trade-in value for their device, we will return it to them free of charge.”

Consumers and businesses are able to take advantage of a simple, three step process for individual or bulk cell phone trade-ins:

- Build a trade-in packing list in seconds, regardless of the quantity of devices. SmartphoneTradeIn.com offers a simple two-tier pricing system for all models.
- Ship devices to our facility, where they are received, wiped of all personal data, and responsibly processed.
- Receive prompt payment via check or PayPal.

The company’s success, however, isn’t just about bottom line figures.

“SmartphoneTradeIn.com, through our parent company, GRC Wireless, enacted a Zero Landfill Pledge across our organization,” adds Leff. “We strive to be the environmentally sound choice for smartphone recycling, and we have committed to both our community and our customers that their devices will be processed without any products of any kind processed through our recycling facility being sent to solid waste landfills.”

SmartphoneTradeIn.com pays consumers and organizations top dollar for more than 400 smartphones, including iPhone, Android and Blackberry models. The company credits its success to its simple, hassle-free trade in process, free shipping, and quick payments.
