January 1, 2015 - Miramar, FL – SmartphoneTradeIn.com (<http://smartphonetradein.com>), one of the nation's leading cell phone buyback companies, today announced the launch of their Refer A Friend Program, which offers consumers and their social networks an additional financial bonus for trading in used smartphones with the company.

"We already offer some of the top trade in values for used smartphones," notes Marc Leff, COO of SmartphoneTradeIn.com, "But we recognize that our ease of use and reputation are also important factors in the decision to choose our service over another. We'd like to reward those consumers who are sharing our service with their friends and social networks."

Enrolling in the program is a two-step process. Referrers simply provide their email address, then choose between sharing SmartphoneTradeIn.com's smartphone trade-in service via email, or posting on Facebook or Twitter. For each friend or contact who sells a used smartphone, the referrer will earn a $10 reward, and the referred friend will earn an additional $5 on their smartphone trade-in.
