

Sell Your Used Smartphones For Extra Holiday Cash

Smartphone Buyback Company Offers Consumers Bonus Holiday Cash For Used Smartphones, Devices

November 18, 2014 - Miramar, FL – SmartphoneTradeIn.com (<http://smartphonetradein.com>), one of the nation's leading cell phone buyback companies, makes it easy and hassle-free to earn extra holiday spending cash this season by trading in used or unwanted cell phones, smartphones, iPads and iPods.

"SmartphoneTradeIn.com offers some of the top trade in values for used smartphones, iPads and iPods in the industry," explains Marc Leff, COO of SmartphoneTradeIn.com. "Our hassle-free trade in process and quick payment times make it easy for consumers to turn their outdated or unwanted cell phones, smartphones, iPads and iPods into extra holiday spending cash."

Because SmartphoneTradeIn.com offers top cash offers for used devices, its service is often more appealing than in-store trade in programs, which offer store credits that can be applied toward the purchase of a new device, rather than an increased budget for holiday spending as needed. SmartphoneTradeIn.com also offers cash for broken devices, whether screens are cracked or broken, and is the only online cell phone trade in service that accepts bulk trade ins.

The three-step process allows consumers to be paid within days of the device trade-in:

- Build a packing slip for one or more devices by entering information about carriers and models.
- Print a free shipping label
- Ship devices to our facility, where they are processed, wiped of all personal data, and recycled.

Payment for phones is sent within three days of the devices arriving at the facility via check or PayPal. SmartphoneTradeIn, through its parent company GRC Wireless, has committed to a Zero Landfill pledge, ensuring that no products of any kind processed through their recycling facility will be sent to solid waste landfills.

SmartphoneTradeIn.com pays consumers and organizations top dollar for more than 400 smartphones, including iPhone, Android and Blackberry models. The company credits its success to its simple, hassle-free trade in process, free shipping, and quick payments. For more information, visit <http://smartphonetradein.com>.
